

NEWS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Relations Contact:
Virginia Steele
Electronic Vaulting Services
901.213.5177 Direct
901.486.3906 Mobile
virginia.steele@evscorporation.com

Electronic Vaulting Services (EVS) Named Partner of the Year by Leading Cloud Backup and Recovery Platform Provider

Asigra Recognizes EVS for Innovation and Best Practices

Memphis, TN – June 30, 2009 – Electronic Vaulting Services (EVS), announced it has been selected “Partner of the Year” by leading cloud backup and recovery software provider, Asigra Inc. The award recognizes EVS for outstanding innovations in the deployment and application of Asigra’s Hybrid Cloud Backup and Recovery platform, as well as best practices in customer satisfaction. Additionally, EVS received the “Already Cloud Ready” award. EVS received both awards at Asigra’s Innovations Conference held in Toronto, Canada.

EVS offers a suite of services including managed online data backup, storage hardware sales and consulting services. EVS Intelligent Backup™ offers data protection with on-site, off-site and out-of-region storage. This, combined with an innovative business strategy and commitment to customer service, has enabled the company to quickly emerge as one of the nation’s leading data backup and storage companies.

Asigra seeks new and innovative deployments of its cloud backup and recovery software platform. This year, Asigra bestowed awards based on these innovations as applied to business challenges. EVS was recognized for exceptional achievements in its novel integration of the Asigra platform within the EVS business strategy.

“Our success is driven by the partners we team with and EVS has demonstrated leadership continuing to fuel growth,” said Asigra CEO David Farajun. “With a focus on service and support, EVS is a cloud backup and recovery service provider that understands customer requirements for simple, effective data protection. We thank all our partners and customers attending the conference for sharing their best practices and innovative applications and congratulate those recognized for excellence.”

Gayle Rose, CEO of Electronic Vaulting Services commented, "Receiving the Asigra awards was confirmation of the outstanding value EVS brings customers. Through our suite of services, EVS offers the most competitive technologies and the very highest standard of customer care. Our pioneering approach ensures our customers have mitigated risk, unparalleled business continuity, accelerated recovery times and reductions in resources and costs. We were greatly honored to be recognized by Asigra as their premier partner for 2009."

About Asigra

Leading organizations reduce costs by applying cloud computing to data backup and recovery with efficient, cost-effective and transformational solutions from Asigra. The positive business outcomes made possible from a low touch agentless architecture are revealed through Asigra's Day One ROI™ - an exercise that delivers enormous value with little up-front investment. Asigra is headquartered in Toronto, Canada, with offices globally. For more information, visit www.RecoverYourCool.com.

About EVS

Founded in 2004 in Memphis TN, Electronic Vaulting Services, (EVS) is a privately held company focused exclusively on data protection and storage. EVS offers a suite of data storage services including online data backup and recovery, storage hardware sales and consulting services. These services, combined with our enterprise class solution EVS Intelligent Backup™, positions EVS as one of the most advanced, efficient and cost effective data backup technologies available. For further information visit www.evscorporation.com